The Department of Economics at the University of Bern (Prof. Dirk Niepelt) invites applications for a

Ph.D. position in Macroeconomics with starting date August/September 2023.

The successful candidate will spend the first year participating in the Swiss Program for Beginning Doctoral Students in Economics in Gerzensee before writing a dissertation in macroeconomics.

We anticipate an employment level of 75% - 100% and expect commitment to high quality research; interest in questions related to sovereign debt, money, banking and/or fiscal-monetary policy interaction; and the willingness to support teaching (BA, MA level) or other academic activities.

We offer a stimulating and collegial research environment with easy access to department faculty as well as attractive employment conditions.

Candidates with an excellent master's degree in economics (to be completed by Summer at the latest) are invited to e-mail their concise application package including grade sheets, GRE scores (if available) and MA thesis to dirk.niepelt@unibe.ch. The review of applications will start immediately.
